

The World Going To The End Of Atlantis

The purpose of this letter and my suggestion is certainly out of the all kinds of primitive or fanatics behaviors. What I am presenting in my letter is that all the points are based in reality and in the morals of sciences. I am certainly ready to prove what I am suggesting to you by the way of all languages of sciences.

In the meantime, I know EXACTLY where Atlantis disappeared... and who the people were, and why they disappeared. You may be certain that, this is the only exploring that will open the true door of space (extraterrestrial life) for the human race.

I wrote this article in 1982 when I was working with ITT in Bahrain and a gentleman from Cyprus, Mr. Abdullah, who was working with The Voice Of America Broadcasting, translated it for me. Unfortunately he left Bahrain before the translation was completed. . As a result, I abandoned any further research on this topic for the next ten years. This article includes a very small section from my book;

<< The World Going To The End Of Atlantis >>

After many years of researching on a subject, which is very dear to me, I have developed a wealth of information, which may be of interest to many. I felt the urge to share this knowledge, described below, and I believe that the time has come for the application of this knowledge.

I will not be affected at all if, for any reason, you choose either to believe or not to believe in me and this universal knowledge I decoded and exposed. I am aware of the difficulties a true scientist faces on this planet, unless he has a title. We have seen that throughout the history and still in our times. I am not asking you to believe in me...I am just appealing to you in order to carry out my noble duty that is in front of history. I would like to emphasize that any further correspondence will be entirely up to your decision and response.

COMMUNICATION WITH THE SPACE CIVILIZATION

I will present with sufficient clarity (a) the details of countless valuable scientific information left behind by three scientists who, in the depth of history, had come to our Planet Earth from another planet named SHI-RA and (b) the ways of communicating with this planet, specifically:

In the past, The SUPER civilization of this planet SHI-RA (published my first book) had established a civilization on our Earth. The name of this civilization is nothing but the ATLANTIS inserted by PLATO into his Dialogues but with some misconceptions. This word ATLANTIS has come to our time after many years of mispronunciations caused by countless causes. The information related to this matter is given in a short article titled "ATLANTIS" written by me and attached to this letter.

You will find, buried under the earth, the carbonized remains of the whole ATLANTIS civilization that I will demonstrate with proofs. I have brought to light with all the details that this civilization destroyed itself by its own mistakes, and that the origins of the black race are closely related to that event. The Atlantis civilization did disappear neither from the Atlantic Ocean nor from the Nevada Desert. And it is not an imaginary civilization. It is as real as you are right now.

The remains of this civilization and the details I will provide to you with scientific methods constitute THE UNIQUE AND ONLY THE KEY, WHICH WILL OPEN THE DOORS OF THE DEPTH OF THE SPACE as we enter the twenty-first century. There is never any other way. Otherwise, with the Hubbell telescope, we will continue searching a needle in the haystack.

The antenna discs, for receiving the radio frequencies from the planet SHI-RA, need to be placed at the country called TUVVA Republic located on Himalayan Mountains or at a location having similar coordinates. TUVVA's coordinates, as you may know, are 90-95 longitude and 50-55 latitude. I will provide more scientific details later.

Depending on your interest on this matter, I will formally present information with respect to the coordinates to be combed and with what bands and carrier frequencies to be used for the radio receiver frequencies. However, the radio signals that will be received from this planet are not a familiar language. It is a language rooted in Sanskrit, and having a combination of music and mathematics with well-advanced scientific symbolism.

As means of communication, this civilization uses an energy band generated by the brain functions as a carrier. I will explain this in the future with more scientific methods.

To achieve communication with a civilization outside of the Earth will be one of the greatest services to the century and the whole humanity. However, I'd like to reemphasize that without the full knowledge and understanding of the remains of ATLANTIS and the details I will provide, such a communication will not contribute anything to the world of science. This is a very important point.

With this letter, I want to convey a humble message that I've done my duty and I am ready to provide additional details as may be requested. It is a great honor for me to serve science and humanity.

I submit this respectfully and look forward to hearing from you.

PRESENTATION SUMMARY OF ATLANTIS

GUILTY ATLANTIS...

When seriously studied it will become obvious that the dialogues of Critias and Timeous by Georgia Plato (written circa 360 BC) have been written on the basis of a particular trend of thought and style which are unique to the writer. This applies to all of his other works as well. However it will be useful to focus attention on the fact that while writing about Atlantis and the Atlantis Civilization, Plato displayed a school of thought which is alien to his unique culture. He said school of thought seems to be motivated by a different source. Undoubtedly, a diligent researcher will become aware of this state of affairs eventually, if not immediately. While pursuing the study of Atlantis, the researcher will find himself moving from the Hellenic era to that of the Pharaohs. Once in the latter epoch, all the information that is gathered will point to the direction of the Hyperbola civilization in northern earth. The result of the study conducted will lead the researcher to the source of Blue Atlantis, proving in the meantime that the word itself has been wrongly used.

I have taken care not to overlook the following point in my research. Mainly, I had to study the life of Plato more than his work. This made me realize the fact that Plato's knowledge of geography was poor. He was unaware of the fact that the earth was round and revolving. This led him to make the mistake of stating that he had crossed the Atlantic Ocean while traveling from Athens to Egypt which was the most important voyage he ever made in his lifetime. Thus, I have come to the conclusion that the search that mankind has been conducting to find lost Atlantis has been devoid of a scientific approach, in that it has only been based on Plato's work which has turned Atlantis into a legend inherited by successive generations. A number of scientific views indicate that after his travel to Egypt, Plato wrote about KUBERNTES (cabernets) , emphasizing the concept of administration and control. Plato actually stated: Cabernets safeguards not only the spirit alone but it also protects material and physical existence. Let us now discuss the following important point: In Greek the word <<Kuberntes >> means << navigator >> . However, Plato used this word in a different concept, namely << administration and control >> . Indeed, the navigator of a small vessel was not of great importance at Plato's time. But why did Plato use the word < Kuberntes > particularly after his trip to Egypt? And, why did he say, "Kubernetes safeguards not only the spirit alone but it also protects material and physical existence? " Why did Plato emphasize this concept? I believe there is a very important aspect to all this. Plato's reference to the safeguarding of the spirit is totally in conflict with his concept of spiritualism and metaphysics.

At this point, we should discuss the concept of spirit within the framework of Hellenic times and try to find out the sources that inspired Plato during his only voyage to Egypt. While taking up the matter, however, I would like to refer to a very important point. A number of undeciphered signs still exist in the Nazca Plateau in Peru which some scientist have described as the work of our ancestors telling our space traveling predecessors where to land on Planet earth.

Now let us look at the picture from a realistic viewpoint. Space technology in our time is in its very early stage. We have not even been able to reach the last planet in the Solar System. The question I would like to ask is that would our space traveling predecessors, who were able to land on any planet in the Solar System or on those thousands of light years far from earth without any difficulty, have any need for primitive signs to land our planet ? And, if our predecessors from space were to land at night, how would beings on earth help at a time when they did not have light in their own homes? What kind of scientific view is this? The truth cannot be found in a simple approach to such matter of great importance.

Serious research requires that every aspect of an important matter be studied in detail. It must be taken into consideration that nations and cultures are subject to changes and distortions at least once every century. Therefore, changes in languages which may be caused by wars, emigration, natural disasters etc., should be studied from a scientific viewpoint.

I must emphasize, however, that it is not my intention to state that the planet earth has never been frequented by space travelers. On the contrary, I believe that there is life in space and I am endeavoring to prove this in my books. But still this is not the case now, for I would like to return to the subject of Kuberntes.

<< Kuberntes safeguards not only the spirit alone but it also protects material and physical existence. >>

The word “ Khuwai-Shuh, which has been used by the Chinese people throughout history, represents the concept of Kuberntes in Plato’s above mentioned sentence. In his book entitle “ we are not the first “Andrew Thomas explains this in detail. Khuwai-Shuh was the science applied by a number of Chinese sculptors to give life to the statues they made.

Meanwhile the science of safeguarding the spirit and placing it under control was known to Turks living on the Thyan-Shan mountains region as KEHANET. Following the disappearance of Shamanism, the work Kehanet (prediction) was attributed to magicians. In fact, Kehanet was the name of a science.

Khuwai-Shu Kehanet (prediction) and Kuberntes have become distorted over the centuries. This is the outcome of development, change and distortion in the language and history of nations. We must agree that we would find it very different to see eye to eye with someone who lived a hundred years ago, even though he or she was from our own family line. How can we expect words to maintain their true meaning throughout history?

During his stay in Egypt, Plato did not fail to search for knowledge. He established close relations with Solon, who was known for his laws, and with scientists and people. These relations covered many aspects of life, including the sex life of the Egyptian people and their Pharaohs.

It will be recalled that Pharaohs and other high ranking Egyptians were embalmed in the belief that they would rise from the dead. The technique of embalming was more advanced scientifically in ancient China. In fact, it was so advanced that a number of cells on body of a woman embalmed 5000 years ago were discovered to be still alive.

History tells us about the different meaning given to the word spirit by numerous nations in the past. Even today many spiritualists have a different concept of the nature of the spirit. It could be that the Egyptian Pharaohs believed that the spirit was a kind of energy that governed and controlled organisms, and since it was an energy that could govern and control, it could not be felt or detected by the sensors of the organisms. That is to say the spirit being a type of energy, was everlasting. Thus it had a governing and creative capability. The Egyptians believe it was a source of energy which could influence and control matter, hence the reason behind their belief that they would be able to use this cosmic energy to rise from the dead in a new physical body. It could be said in brief that because of the information the Egyptians had about certain aspects of life in a very advanced community (no other than that of Atlantis) they had come to the conclusion that a metaphysical source of energy did in fact exist. Any scientific research into this will prove that the view is correct.

In such scientific research we would be surprised to come across information regarding the role of the spirit and other forces in the administration and control of the organism and establishing discipline among numerous cells. Would you be surprised if I was to say that there are sources of information which explain Genesis far better than any information we have today?

Early in our century, Prof. Dr. Norbert Wiener explained the concept of CYBERNETICS as an entity that establishes discipline with his discovery, he became the father of this important science which defines exchange of information, control and balance both among human and in the world of machinery. Prof. Dr. Wiener was of course inspired by Plato's concept of Kuberntes.

With the information he gathered in Egypt, Plato talks about Kuberntes capability of safeguarding the spirit from great harm. The word Kuberntes used by Plato might have meant a great cosmic force or a great mind (intelligence).

At the end of Pharaoh Era in Egypt, numerous magicians frequently used the word KEHANET in order to further their petty interests. The people of that era used to refer to magician as KAHIN. The source of this word can be traced back to the Turkish tribes living on the Thyan-Shan Mountains.

Every historian knows how Moses created a path through the Red Sea with his famous rod when leading his community out of Egypt and away from the Pharaohs. It is not my intention to delve into this in detail in this short bulletin. My current study is based on my eagerness to understand how the human brain could record information and keep it stored up for years for use when required. I believe anti-matter is closely related to this.

While leading his people away from Egypt, had Moses, who knew well what Kuberntes was and who grew up in Median (north of the Caspian sea side civilization) as a scientist, used his famous staff (rod) which he always kept with him to neutralize gravity so as to create a pass for his people? Or, was all this a kind of magic?

When we study history and past developments, we shall be amazed by the fact that the Pharaohs and the Egyptian people inherited invaluable scientific knowledge from Moses.

In the light of all this, we may ask the following question; when referring to Kuberntes after the knowledge he gathered in Egypt, had Plato endeavored to describe Anti-Matter or an energy or mind which controlled anti-matter as well? He was actually emphasizing the importance of Kuberntes by saying "Kuberntes safeguards not only the spirit alone"...

I am aware of the fact that it is impossible to discuss all this in a short thesis; due to the fact any detailed study will take us back 12 or 16 thousand years - hence to the era of BLUE ATLANTIS.

My objective with this short bulletin is to try and convince you that I have been working seriously to gather substantial evidence to prove that certain unexplained events in history can indeed be explained scientifically. It is my conviction that your confidence in my work will guide me on the path of scientific knowledge.

I arrived at the conclusion a number of years ago that a good researcher can also become a knowledgeable physicist. On the basis of this view, I have endeavored as much as possible to learn physics that is to say Cybernetics, which establishes harmony discipline among the various sciences.

I must draw your attention to the fact that the books I have written are by no means perfect. They are, however, aimed at proving the scientific aspect of historical developments. I am not after publicity for a number of my discoveries, but on the contrary my wish is to contribute toward science and humanity.

I conclude by expressing my conviction that the appropriate authorities in the scientific world will find my work serious enough to be worthy of their assessment.
